SOCIAL SURVEY IN NEWBURGH

Of interest to city officials and all persons connected with movements for civic and social progress in cities is the recently completed "Social Survey" of Newburgh, N. Y. It lines up another city with those seeking to base their plans for advance on a knowledge of the forces with which they have to deal and the advice of specialists.

The Newburgh survey is interesting for several reasons. It was initiated entirely by local citizens who called in specialists from the department of surveys and exhibits of the Russell Sage foundation, New York City. It was essentially a community undertaking, for on the survey committee were representatives appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, Central Labor union, Ministerial association and the Associated Charities. The survey covered schools, public health, housing, delinquency, public library, recreation, charities, industrial conditions, and municipal administration. It pointed out the credits, and called attention to the debits of the community, and outlined a program for development which citizens are already at work upon.

Many cities over the country are following Newburgh's example in developing a sound basis for civic advance. Since the Russell Sage foundation organized its department of surveys and exhibits last fall several scores of cities from Saskatchewan, Canada, to the Gulf of Mexico have asked for assistance in conducting social surveys and special civic investigation and exhibits. This wide spread interest in a type of work that means keen analysis of things as they are, bodes well for future civic development in the United States.

TANGO SASHES. The tango sashes now being worn are ridiculously easy to make. Take a bias strip a yard and three-quarters in length and six inches wide; hem it on both sides—the selvage serves for a finish at the ends and the sash is complete. A great deal of their chic lies, of course, in the adjustment and tying.

FRANKLIN HOUSE TO BE TORN DOWN

Appeal Made to Americans to Save Historical Building in London.

London, Sept. 27.—The quaint little house in Craven street where Benjamin Franklin lived in his more prosperous days, and from which he issued his delightful series of papers called the "Craven Street Gazette," forms part of a block of property which has been purchased for the construction of a large hotel, and, unless immediate steps are taken to save it, this historical building will be torn down. An appeal has been made to Americans to save the house and a proposal will be made to the hotel builders to include Franklin's rooms within the new building.

The house is now conducted as a small residential hotel, much frequented by Americans. It bears above the front doorway the following tablet: "Lived here Benjamin Franklin, printer, philosopher and statesman. Born 1706, died 1790."

Here the great American philosopher resided after he had served his apprenticeship in London, during the absence of his landlady, Mrs. Stevenson, from home he entertained his fellow boarders with the issue of a whimsical series of papers called the "Craven Street Gazette." One of the paragraphs was as follows: "At six o'clock this afternoon news came by the post that Her Majesty (Mrs. Stevenson) had arrived safely at Rochester on Saturday night. The bells immediately rung for candles to illuminate the parlor, the court went into cribbage, and the evening concluded with every demonstration of joy."

The tablet was affixed to the house, which has been rebuilt, but in the same style as when Franklin lived in it, by the Society of Arts, before the London County Council undertook the work of marking the one-time homes of eminent persons in London. Franklin was not the only famous resident of Craven street. At various periods the poet Akenhead and Heinrich Heine lived there, and James Smith, the author of "Rejected Addresses," died in a house not far from the Franklin house. In his book "The Stevenson," Mr. Stevenson writes: "In Craven street, Strand, ten after ten dark coal barges are moored at its base."

For the craft in the river and craft in the street. About this Sir George Rose wrote the following lines: "Why should honesty fly to some safer retreat, From barges and attorneys, 'od rot 'em? For the lawyers are just at the top of the street And the barges are just at the bottom."

Business judgment rather than sentiment probably will lead the hotel owners to include the Franklin apartments within their new building, as several historic houses of entertainment in London pay heavy dividends because American tourists put up with bad food and poor service on account of the historical associations. And, moreover, some of these lack the historical authenticity of the Franklin house.

NOTED BROWN PALACE BEAUTY ASKS $30,000

Salt Lake, Sept. 27.—As a sequel to the divorce proceedings instituted in Grand county last March by Dr. Chas. M. Heberton, wealthy Denver clubman and financier, Mrs. Mary Joe Heberton, known as "the beautiful woman of the Brown Palace," yesterday filed an action in the Denver district court asking that she be decreed $30,000 for separate maintenance. She charges the physician with cruelty and asserts that he has made no provision for her support since January 1, this year.

Mrs. Heberton also asks that he pay her $200 a month temporary alimony and $1,000 to cover court costs and attorney fees.

While on their wedding tour, following their marriage in Kansas City, Mo., January 20, 1912, Mrs. Heberton says the doctor began to be "cruel and abusive."

"He was accustomed to display firearms," the complaint recites, "and the plaintiff was in constant fear of her life."

Both Dr. Heberton and his wife have figured in former divorce proceedings. She was formerly the wife of E. B. Cridde, one time head of the Capitol Ice company. A month after she obtained a divorce from Cridde, on the grounds of mental cruelty, she and Dr. Heberton were married.

Dr. Heberton was granted a divorce from his first wife two years ago.

PRACTICAL JOKER KILLED

Halley, Ida, Sept. 26.—After shooting and killing John Shaw, 44 years old, a sheepherder employed on the Gray ranch twenty miles south of here, Monday night, Roy Daley gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff Blair. The shooting took place in a log cabin on the Gray ranch, and, according to witnesses, Shaw was sitting in a room with other men when Daley entered and said:

"I'll see if I can scare Shaw."

With these words Daley started to shoot, with the result that one of the bullets entered Shaw's head, killing him almost instantly.

Shaw's body was removed to Halley by Coroner Wright and Marshall Blair. The funeral was held Wednesday from the Harris undertaking rooms.

James Carey, S. J. Benson, Joseph Clayburg, Harvey Brooks, David Keeler and Jesse Day were chosen as jurors at the coroner's inquest.

address before the students Thursday morning, he mentioned the fact that his geological excursions last summer had taken him to most of the tributaries of Ogden's water supply, and he had found sanitary conditions along these streams extremely bad, not to say scandalous. The filth and garbage left by campers would inevitably find its way into the water with the fall rains—perhaps also something worse than filth. At any rate, students, would be on the safe side by boiling the water they drink at the first report of typhoid, should that dread disease break out in the city.

At the faculty meeting yesterday, it was decided to open the social season of the school year with the annual reception and party given by the teachers to the students. The date chosen was Friday evening, October 3, when it is believed all the students for the year will be enrolled.

What is known as the "Exclusion list" begins its operation next Monday. Students flagrantly absent or tardy are those listed at the close of each day, and are excluded from further classes until they bring a satisfactory excuse, signed by parent or guardian. An additional incentive to prompt attendance is found in the fact that report showing absence or tardiness will be mailed each month to parents or guardians.

Teachers and students manifested admirable self-control yesterday morning in listening to, but not heeding, the call of the ten-monthed bombs.

Miss Pearl Cragan, head of the domestic science department, occupied the "Moral Topics" period at devotional by a well told story of student life. It was a story of a student's social life of the school, because of his smoking and flunking, did not escape the name "Scrub," applied to him by the furnace boy, and how, stung thereby, the rich man's son reformed and made a man of himself. The moral was obvious.

ALMA RICHARDS MAKES HIS BOW AT CORNELL

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Considerable excitement was aroused in Cornell athletic circles this afternoon when Alma Richards, Olympic high jump champion, appeared in a track suit on Percy field. He reported to Jack Moakley, athletic track trainer, and then, with apparent ease, cleared the bar at six feet.

Richards, who has attended Brigham Young college of agriculture at Cornell. Incidentally, he will be under Jack Moakley's tuition in the arts of high jumping, broad jumping and shot putting. He will, moreover, be on the freshman track team this year and be eligible for the varsity team next year.

EMERY HORSES WINS

Price, Sept. 26.—As a direct result of rivalry engendered during the races at the Carbon-Emery fair, a match race was arranged and run today for $200 a side between horses owned by Ed Mackleprang of Huntington and S. G. T. Olson of Emery. The race was 350 yards and was won by the Olson horse.

HEAVY BUYING IN BOSTON WOOL MART

Boston, Sept. 26.—The prolonged deadlock in the Boston wool market has at last been broken by some heavy buying here this week. The Ameskeag mills bought the largest block, between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 pounds, involving in round numbers $1,500,000. Added to this was buying of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 pounds mainly by New England and New Jersey mills.

As yet there has been comparatively little change in prices. Some of the biggest corporations, including the American Woolens, are still holding off from the market. But the new activity lets a little light into a gloomy wool situation and promises well for the future, experts here say.

MADE OVER.

As separate skirts and blouses are to be worn during the fall and winter, there is a good opportunity to utilize the old crepe de chine, crepe meador or charmeuse dress if it is too much out of date to serve further as a gown.

The skirt of such a gown will make a charming soft blouse with one of those fetching pleated peplums. The skirt worn with the blouse need not be the same shade, as contrasts are fashionable.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes the drum of the ear to become rigid and the hearing is lost. Deafness is the result, and it is entirely curable. Deafness can be cured by the use of the "Deafness Cure," which is a powerful medicine that will destroy the inflammation and restore the hearing to its normal condition. Hearing will be restored forever. Cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by the "Deafness Cure." Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

AGENCY PROMOTER SOUGHT BY POLICE

Salt Lake City, Sept. 21.—E. F. Kelley, promoter of the "Merchant's Collection Agency," offices in the Judge building, is being sought by the police. A charge of embezzlement, preferred by William Smith, an employee of the company, is responsible.

According to those who have investigated Kelley's method of doing business, each new employee was required to put up a cash bond of $25 before the company would trust him to act as a collector.

Kelley became embarrassed the other day when a representative of the Mayor Detective agency proved to be among his numerous applicants for work, brought to his office by want ads in the newspapers. The detective succeeded in getting the return of the $25 bond for his client. Other employees became suspicious and Smith took legal action.

BODIES BROUGHT HOME

Mount Pleasant, Sept. 26.—The bodies of two Mount Pleasant youths who left home were brought back for burial this week. Hamlet Hansen, aged 18, son of Mrs. Peter Hansen, was killed by a horse he was riding at Drummond, Idaho, Saturday and the body brought here Thursday.

James Spens, a young man whose parents are pioneer residents of this city died at Mammoth Sunday, following a stroke from which he suffered a short time. His body was brought here this morning.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR INFIRMARY JOB

Provo, Sept. 26.—C. A. Talbot of this city, whose bid of $11,200 was the lowest submitted to the county commissioners for the remodeling of the county infirmary, partially destroyed by fire in August, was awarded the contract to rebuild the building today by the county commissioners at their regular meeting. The other bids submitted were: James H. Snyder, $11,810; Peter Croneman, $11,800; J. E. Snyder, $11,350, and Miller & Holdaway, $11,220.

George M. Nuttal, with a bid of $1,062, was awarded the contract for the plumbing. The plumbing work according to the contract must be completed within ten days after the remodeling work is finished. The other bids received for this work were: H. G. Blumenthal, $1,900; Stanford & Finch, $1,175; Alex. Mortenson, $1,784, and Hayden Long, $1,390.

Architect Joseph Nelson was instructed to prepare plans for improvements on the new boiler house of the infirmary. The amount returned to the county for fire insurance on the building was $10,555, and of this $2,000 will be spent for improvements in a tar roof, oak floors and cement work.

POCATELLO CLEAN TOWN.

Pocatello, Ida., Sept. 26.—Judge Budge of the Fifth judicial district court claims that Pocatello is a very clean town and that the two grand juries called in the last six months have gone far to clean up the city. Bootlegging has been of the spasmodic variety since last winter's grand jury and only thirty indictments for many crimes have been returned by this jury. When one considers that Pocatello has a population of over 11,000, containing a number of railroad laborers or floating population, the above condition is especially gratifying to the judge, who has labored hard to make Pocatello a clean town in every respect. The county officers are working hand in hand with Judge Budge and Mayor Turner and his officers are backing up the good movement. There was not an indictment in the last session of any individual of any prominence in the city, being confined almost entirely to the foreign element.

Fashion Decrees - False Hair Must GO

Fashion's decrees are frequently of an uncompromising nature, and yet we all bow to her mandates with humility. The late reaction to 'plain styles in hair dressings is decidedly gratifying to almost everyone. The prevailing idea seems to be simplicity, coolness and comfort. The uncomfortable masses of germ harboring false hair and rats are, when possible, being cast aside, and the woman or miss, who cares to be strictly up-to-date, is relying upon her own natural hair for adornment.

This means that more painstaking care must be exerted in saving one's own hair and in enhancing its beauty.
